Golden Apple Hiding in Somewhere in Julian

October 8, 2008— Julian produces many varieties of apples—Red Delicious, McIntosh, Gravenstein, Jonathons and more. But there's another apple hiding somewhere in Julian. It's a Golden Apple and it was last seen on Main Street. The Golden Apple is believed to be hiding inside one of the local businesses, in plain sight.

Wanted posters have been posted in windows of participating merchants throughout the town. Visitors are encouraged to help aid in the capture of this renegade apple. Look inside every business with a Wanted Poster and if you spot the Golden Apple, please notify an employee immediately.

“This Golden Apple has been eluding us ever since the apple harvest began last month,” according to Tracy Turner, President of the Julian Merchant's Association. “We hope to corral this runaway before Apple Days ends in mid-November.”

Although Julian apple pies are available all year round, the apple harvest is almost over. A reward will be offered to any wrangler who finds the Golden Apple. The search is on!
